MATCH SUMMARY

Porto wins in Marítimo. Gomes contributes to the progression of the ball through forward transmissions and through centers that find their target. His strike attempts remain without shot on target. His offensive contribution is accompanied by difficulties in defensive opposition.

PLAYER SUMMARY MATCH

Gomes brings accuracy in his exchanges and gives a useful outcome to his centers. He also succeeds in his dribbling initiative and resists rather well in offensive contacts. This contribution does not extend into the finish, where it fails to frame. He is more in trouble when he has to win a defensive opposition. The aerial game does not allow him to take the advantage either. His match therefore combines an offensive use applied with a less convincing defensive contribution.

STRENGTHS OBSERVED

- Successful forward transmissions.
- centers that find their target.
- favorable offensive contacts.

AXES OF PROGRESS

- Improve strike accuracy.
- better respond in defensive opposition.
- Reinforce its effectiveness in aerial duels.

MATCH SUMMARY

Porto wins against Benfica. Gomes manages to frame his attempt, but his exchanges remain imprecise and his centers do not find their target. It responds better in ground contacts and participates in recovery. Its influence with the ball remains irregular.

PLAYER SUMMARY MATCH

Gomes gets a chance to strike that he manages to frame. It also brings by the balloons intercepted and by oppositions on the ground rather favorable. The continuity of his game is however penalized by transmissions that do not succeed often enough. Its centers do not make it possible to find a partner and its dribbling initiatives remain shared. He also loses a lot of possessions during his visit. He must associate his activity in duels with a safer use of the ball to weigh more on the construction of attacks.

STRENGTHS OBSERVED

- Strike attempt on target.
- Participation in interception recovery.
- favorable response in ground contacts.

- make current transmissions more reliable.
- Gain precision in the centers.
- Reduce possessions rendered.

MATCH SUMMARY

Porto wins on the ground of Casa Pia. Gomes succeeds in its dribbling initiatives and finds solutions to serve its partners near the goal. His strike attempts, however, lack precision. Forward traffic remains less secure than its individual initiatives.

PLAYER SUMMARY MATCH

Gomes brings his dribbling attempts to fruition and regularly takes the advantage in offensive contacts. He also finds his partners in the area, which gives utility to his activity near the goal. He does not extend this work with a framed strike. Its forward transmissions remain shared and it still makes possessions. His defensive contribution is less clear than his offensive contribution, with disputed ground duels and unfavorable air opposition. The content is interesting in the creation, but must gain in precision in the conclusion and in the exchanges.

STRENGTHS OBSERVED

- successful dribbling initiatives.
- favorable offensive contacts.
- partners found in the area.

AXES OF PROGRESS

- Better frame attempts at strike.
- Secure transmissions forward.
- better preserve possessions.

MATCH SUMMARY

Porto bows to Manchester City. Gomes participates in the exchanges, but finds few favorable outcomes in the opposition. Its centers remain without recipients and its attempt to strike is not on target. His offensive contribution remains limited on this meeting.

PLAYER SUMMARY MATCH

Gomes retains some application in return exchanges and in lateral circulation. He encounters more difficulties when he seeks to extend the action forward. His dribbling initiatives do not succeed regularly and offensive contacts often turn against him. Defensive and air oppositions are also unfavorable to him. His centers do not find their target and his attempt to strike misses the frame. He must better resist the opposition and give more continuity to his actions to make his offensive participation more useful.

STRENGTHS OBSERVED

- successful return exchanges.
- Participation in the interception.
- successful transmission to the surface.

- better resist in offensive contacts.
- Improve the accuracy of centers and strikes.
- Strengthen the response in defensive duels.

MATCH SUMMARY

Porto wins against Moreirense. Gomes directly contributes to the result by finishing and the last pass. His dribbling and offensive contacts allow him to extend the attacks. This efficiency contrasts with transmissions and centers that remain imprecise.

PLAYER SUMMARY MATCH

Gomes gives a concrete outcome to his offensive activity by scoring and serving a partner on a goal. He succeeds in his dribbling initiatives with regularity and takes advantage in offensive contacts. He also finds forward solutions. His performance remains less clean in current exchanges, where he lacks precision and makes possessions. Its centers do not find their target and transmissions to the last third are difficult to achieve. He thus produces a decisive meeting, while leaving room for improvement in the continuity and precision of his game.

STRENGTHS OBSERVED

- decisive contribution by the finish and the last pass.
- regularly successful dribbling.
- Advantage in offensive contacts.

- make current exchanges more reliable.
- Improve center accuracy.
- Secure transmissions to the last third.

Player Summary Evaluation Orientation

01 PLAYER SUMMARY

William Gomes is a left-handed right winger, also used on the left. His best contributions come from individual initiatives and offensive contacts, which allow him to extend the attacks. It can also give a concrete outcome to its activity by finishing and the last pass. This influence varies according to the meetings. The centers lack continuity and current exchanges sometimes remain imprecise. He must keep the ball better and make his forward transmissions safer. His contribution to defensive and air oppositions is less convincing than his offensive activity. The follow-up must check its ability to maintain this utility close to the goal in the face of more demanding opposition, while improving the continuity of its possessions.

05 SUMMARY OF THE CELL'S DECISION-MAKING

To be integrated into the follow-up for a role of right winger. The first points of support relate to the accuracy of progressive passes and contribution to the last pass. Progress priorities are: Reliability of current transmissions; secure transmissions in the last third; Securing forward transmissions; Improve center accuracy. Their consolidation must make the contribution more regular and more complete. The potential represents a development estimate to be confirmed. The club's need, the adequacy to the role and the repetition of performances must be examined before a final recommendation.
