02 / CURRENT ABILITY AND POTENTIAL

Current ability

A developing attacking profile.

CURRENT ABILITY RATING

2.2 / 5 B-

Assessment within his development context: Marseille U19 and youth international football.

Remadnia is currently a young winger whose game is still developing, but whose attacking qualities are already evident. He operates mainly from the left, while also being able to play in several positions across the front line. At his age, his main appeal lies in his willingness to take the initiative and try to make something happen when he receives the ball.

On the ball, he has a natural ability to engage his opponent. He likes to attack one against one, change pace and create an opening through his dribbling. This ability to beat his man adds value to his profile, particularly when he can receive in space and face forward.

He also shows that he can get close to the penalty area and contribute to attacking moves. He is willing to move into finishing positions and has enough technical quality to combine or continue an attack after beating an opponent. His execution towards the end of these moves remains inconsistent, however, and he needs greater accuracy to make better use of the advantages he creates.

This is currently his main area for improvement. He can sometimes try to extend a move when a simple pass would be more effective, or lack accuracy when trying to find a teammate after taking on an opponent. He must learn to read the situation better after his first action and decide more quickly whether to keep going, combine or play forward.

Without the ball, he shows a reasonable level of commitment and does not ignore his collective responsibilities. He can help regain possession and is willing to make defensive efforts, although this part of his game still needs to develop before it becomes a consistent strength.

At his current level, Remadnia is therefore an interesting young attacker in his age group, capable of creating individual advantages and unbalancing a defence. His decision-making and end product are not yet fully developed, but he already has sufficiently distinctive qualities to warrant close attention as he develops.

02 / CURRENT ABILITY AND POTENTIAL

Career potential

A pathway towards senior football.

POTENTIAL ABILITY RATING

3.8 / 5

B+

Career potential is a projection of future development; it is separate from current ability.

At his age, the player has considerable room for improvement. His potential is built first and foremost on a promising technical foundation and his ability to create an advantage on the ball. He can already take opponents on, beat his man and unbalance a defence from a wide position, which is a significant quality for an attacking player of his age.

The next stage of his development will be to improve the quality of his actions after creating the initial opening. He must learn to follow up more effectively after beating a man, get his head up more often and decide more quickly whether to continue his run, combine or find a teammate. His crossing, passing into the penalty area and forward distribution must also improve so that more of his individual advantages become chances for the team.

His development at Marseille and his exposure to youth international football show that he is already working in demanding environments. This provides a useful setting in which to improve his understanding of the game, speed of decision-making and ability to reproduce his qualities against stronger opponents.

Physically, he is still at a normal stage of development for his age. The aim should not be to make him dominant in contact immediately, but to support him gradually so that he retains his speed and mobility while becoming stronger in duels and better able to repeat his efforts.

We see promising potential for a wide attacking role. The priorities now are to become more consistent, improve his decision-making and make his play more effective after creating the first advantage. If he makes those improvements while continuing his physical development, he can gradually work towards a demanding level of senior football.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 01 OF 08

Italy U17 - France U17 1:2

U17 international friendly

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
20/02/2026	RW	61 min

MATCH SUMMARY

France take the lead before the break, then Remadnia extends their advantage after the restart. Italy pull a goal back late on and keep the outcome in doubt until the end. France nevertheless hold on to their lead and win this second meeting, responding to their defeat in the first encounter.

PLAYER SUMMARY

Operating on the right, Remadnia creates an advantage through his dribbling and ball carrying. He beats his direct opponent and drives towards the penalty area, where he makes a decisive contribution by scoring. His impact is not restricted to attacking phases: he wins his defensive contests and helps regain possession, allowing France to get back on the ball.

The actions that follow his initial work are less accurate. His passes do not always reach a teammate, his crossing is inconsistent and he gives possession away even in his own half. He gets into shooting positions but must improve his execution so that his influence does not depend solely on his goal. A useful, enterprising performance that needs cleaner passing and better ball retention.

STRENGTHS

+ Beats his opponent and progresses play by carrying the ball.
+ Makes a decisive contribution in the penalty area by converting a chance.
+ Wins his defensive contests and helps his team regain possession.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Improve the accuracy of passes and crosses after creating an opening.
− Take greater care of possession in his own half.
− Improve his shooting execution to sustain his attacking influence.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 02 OF 08

Italy U17 - France U17 2:0

U17 international friendly

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
18/02/2026	LW	19 min

MATCH SUMMARY

Italy use a ball in behind to open the scoring in a fairly tight first half. France create opportunities after the break but lack the finishing touch as they try to get back into the game. Italy are more clinical and extend their lead late on. France finish the encounter without finding the net.

PLAYER SUMMARY

From the left, Remadnia brings a direct threat during his time on the pitch. He beats opponents and carries the ball forward, giving France a way to progress. He also responds well when required to defend one against one.

This activity does not translate into enough end product in the final third. His forward passes lack accuracy and his attempt at goal misses the target. He must connect the advantage created by his dribbling to the next action, choosing a more accurate pass or a better finish. His involvement is brief, but it reveals an ability to take players on that should be used more effectively for the team.

+ Creates openings through his dribbling from the left.
+ Gains territory by carrying the ball.
+ Is solid in his direct defensive contests.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Find a teammate more accurately after beating an opponent.
− Improve his shooting execution when an opportunity arises.
− Give greater continuity to the moves he starts on the ball.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 03 OF 08

OM U19 - Saint-Étienne U19 6:2

National U19 Championship

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
08/02/2026	Left attacking channel	89 min

MATCH SUMMARY

Marseille start strongly and take an early lead, but Saint-Étienne respond to draw level before half-time. OM regain the lead after the restart without immediately putting the game beyond their opponents. Saint-Étienne remain a threat and come close to another equaliser. Marseille eventually exploit the spaces late in the game to pull well clear.

PLAYER SUMMARY

Playing in the left attacking channel, Remadnia contributes mainly through his ability to take opponents on and carry the ball forward. He beats his man and establishes his attacks closer to the penalty area. His crosses can find a teammate and he also tests the goalkeeper without scoring.

He contributes to combination play and is effective when defending one against one, but is less consistent in his attacking duels. As a result, he cannot sustain all of his initiatives despite some convincing dribbling. Lost possession and his decisions in the final third still reduce the effectiveness of his performance. His ability to progress play from the left stands out, with a need to connect his direct running more effectively to a useful outcome for the team.

STRENGTHS

+ Progresses play by beating opponents on the ball.
+ Can find a teammate after working the ball down his flank.
+ Responds well in direct defensive contests.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Follow up his dribbles with a better pass or final action.
− Become more reliable in attacking duels.
− Reduce lost possession to retain the benefit of the openings he creates.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 04 OF 08

Real Madrid U19 - OM U19 5:2

UEFA Youth League

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
03/02/2026	Right attacking channel	82 min

MATCH SUMMARY

Real Madrid open the scoring, but Marseille respond and stay in the game. Madrid regain the lead before OM draw level again before half-time. After the restart, Real go back in front from the penalty spot. Marseille cannot respond this time and concede further goals late on.

PLAYER SUMMARY

From the right attacking channel, Remadnia beats his opponent and gains territory on the ball. He also finds teammates in shooting positions, providing a useful outcome to some of his initiatives. His ability to take players on is his main contribution in a difficult game for Marseille.

His performance nevertheless lacks continuity. His forward passes and crosses are not accurate enough, while his attacking duels too rarely allow him to retain possession. He has less success in the overall physical contest and cannot get his shot on target. He must take better care of the moves he starts and choose a safer follow-up after beating a man, so that the advantages he creates have a greater impact on Marseille's play.

STRENGTHS

+ Creates an advantage through his dribbling on the right.
+ Progresses the ball after beating his opponent.
+ Finds teammates to set up shooting opportunities.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Make his forward passing and crossing more accurate.
− Compete more effectively in attacking contests to sustain possession.
− Choose a more secure follow-up to his individual initiatives.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 05 OF 08

Union SG U19 - OM U19 1:4

UEFA Youth League

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME

MATCH SUMMARY

Marseille move ahead during the first half. Union Saint-Gilloise equalise after the restart, but OM respond and regain the lead through Remadnia. Marseille then extend their advantage rather than allow their opponents back into the game. They score again before the end to secure a clear away win.

PLAYER SUMMARY

From the left, Remadnia contributes above all through his effectiveness close to goal. He executes his finishes well and scores when Marseille need to regain the lead. He can also beat his opponent on the ball and find a teammate with a cross.

He is much less secure when required to circulate possession. His forward and long passes do not find the intended outlets, breaking the continuity of his moves. He also loses possession that he should protect more carefully, particularly in his own half. His goal gives tangible value to his performance, but he must combine that efficiency with greater control to remain useful between decisive actions.

STRENGTHS

+ Finishes effectively and restores Marseille's lead.
+ Can beat a man to progress an attack from the left.
+ Finds a teammate with his crossing.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Make his forward passing more reliable to maintain continuity.
− Improve his long passing instead of giving possession back.
− Protect possession more carefully, particularly in his own half.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 06 OF 08

OM U19 - Newcastle U19 2:0

UEFA Youth League

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
25/11/2025	Left attacking channel	54 min

MATCH SUMMARY

Marseille take an early lead through Remadnia, who is picked out well inside the penalty area. Newcastle retain opportunities to get back into the game but cannot finish them. After half-time, the visitors are reduced to ten men and OM look to pull away. Marseille eventually seal the win with another goal in the closing stages.

PLAYER SUMMARY

Remadnia makes a decisive contribution by following the attack into the penalty area to open the scoring. He also contributes to forward combinations, with passes that allow attacks to continue. Without the ball, he cuts out passes, regains possession in the opposition half and wins his defensive contests, helping Marseille build again.

His limitations are clearer when he tries to go alone. He cannot beat his man through dribbling and his attacking contests bring his initiatives to an end. He should use his teammates more rather than persist with individual situations that are not working for him. His goal and ball-winning contribution make this a useful performance, with room to improve his decisions on the ball and his crossing accuracy.

STRENGTHS

- \+ Follows an attack into the penalty area and finishes it.
- \+ Cuts out passes and regains possession in the opposition half.
- \+ Finds forward outlets to keep attacks moving.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

- − Choose more carefully when to take an opponent on alone.
- − Use his teammates more when the direct attacking route is blocked.
- − Improve his crossing to provide a useful outcome from wide positions.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 07 OF 08

Sporting CP U19 - OM U19 2:1

UEFA Youth League

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
22/10/2025	Left attacking channel	10 min

MATCH SUMMARY

Sporting start the stronger and open the scoring after winning possession and attacking in behind. Marseille return with greater intent after half-time and equalise. The Portuguese side regain the lead late on and then have to protect it with ten men. OM push until the end, but Sporting's goalkeeper preserves his team's victory.

PLAYER SUMMARY

Remadnia makes a brief appearance in the left attacking channel as Marseille try to get back into the game. His involvement does not provide an identifiable attacking contribution that changes the course of the match. He cannot come out on top in the contested ball in which he is involved.

His time on the pitch is too short to assess his ability to combine, take players on or finish with any confidence. It would be excessive to infer a lack of desire or a general weakness in those areas. The priority during this spell is to make his involvement count for more and become useful as soon as an opportunity arises.

STRENGTHS

+ His appearance is too brief to identify a sufficiently established strength.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Make better use of the contested ball to sustain a Marseille possession.

− Make his involvement on the ball count for more.

− Confirm his attacking contribution over a longer spell on the pitch.

05 / INDIVIDUAL MATCH REPORT 08 OF 08

Real Madrid U19 - OM U19 3:2

UEFA Youth League

DATE	POSITION	PLAYING TIME
16/09/2025	Right attacking channel	33 min

MATCH SUMMARY

Marseille withstand Madrid's chances and take the lead just before half-time. Real equalise after the restart, but OM go ahead again. Madrid continue to attack and eventually turn the game around in the closing stages. Marseille leave the pitch beaten after having held realistic hopes of a positive result for much of the match.

PLAYER SUMMARY

Operating on the right of the attack, Remadnia provides an assist and is therefore directly involved in Marseille's end product. He finds a teammate close to goal and gives an attacking move a tangible outcome. He also beats opponents and responds well when required to defend in a duel.

He is less secure in possession. He gives the ball away even in his own half and does not win enough attacking contests to sustain play consistently. He must protect the ball better when directly challenged by an opponent. His decisive contribution is the main strength of this spell, but it needs to be supported by greater continuity between actions.

STRENGTHS

+ Finds a teammate to finish a Marseille attack.
+ Beats his opponent in the right channel.
+ Wins his direct defensive contests.

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

− Protect the ball better in his own half.
− Become more effective in attacking contests.
− Sustain possession more consistently between decisive actions.

06 / SUMMARY AND FINAL RECOMMENDATION

Scouting department summary

Player profile, strengths and development priorities.

Saïd Remadnia is a right-footed winger who operates mainly from the left, with the versatility to play in several attacking positions. He likes to take the initiative, receive facing forward and engage his direct opponent to create an opening.

His main strength is his ability on the ball. He is technically comfortable, can change pace and has the ability to beat his man one against one. When he gets up to speed, he can unbalance a defence and quickly carry the ball into dangerous areas.

He now needs to make better use of the advantages he creates. After beating an opponent, the next action can still lack accuracy: the final pass, the cross or the decision to keep going on his own. He must learn to read these situations better to make his play more effective for the team.

His use of the ball also needs greater control. He can still give possession away by forcing an action when a simpler option is available. Better decision-making and more accurate forward passing will increase the value of his ball-carrying threat.

At 17, he is naturally still developing physically. He will need to become stronger in contact and improve his ability to repeat his efforts, while retaining the sharpness and mobility that are part of his game.

Remadnia currently profiles as a young attacking winger with a clear ability to take players on and create the initial advantage. The next step in his development is to become more accurate and consistent after that first action, turning more of his individual ability into effective, decisive contributions for the team.

3 STRENGTHS

- \+ Create an advantage through dribbling and ball carrying.
- \+ Take the initiative in attacking situations.
- \+ Show a promising technical foundation and ball control in his individual assessment.

3 AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

- − Retain the ball better and reduce avoidable turnovers.
- − Improve decision-making and accuracy after creating an advantage.
- − Become more consistent and gradually prepare for the physical demands of senior football.

06 / SUMMARY AND FINAL RECOMMENDATION

Mentality and final recommendation

MENTALITY AND BEHAVIOUR

Remadnia shows a positive attitude for a player of his age. He appears keen to improve, is willing to take the initiative and does not seem to hide when an opportunity arises to try something. This willingness to take opponents on and get involved is positive for his development.

He must now learn to maintain the same level of commitment when the game becomes more difficult. In some passages, his influence can drop when his first actions are unsuccessful or when he comes under greater pressure. The key will be to see whether he can remain focused, available and sound in his decision-making when facing greater difficulty.

At this age, we are not yet looking to define him as a leader or assign him a fixed character profile. What matters most is his ability to listen, work, accept coaching and keep improving within a demanding environment. His overall behaviour shows no particular obstacle to his development, although the consistency of his effort and his response to difficult moments should continue to be monitored.

CONCLUSION AND FINAL RECOMMENDATION

Saïd Remadnia is a young attacking winger with significant development potential. His ability to take opponents on, beat players on the ball and create openings already provides a strong foundation for a 17-year-old. He has promising technical qualities and the profile to make a difference in attacking areas.

His game is still developing, particularly in the quality of his actions after the first advantage, his final pass, ball retention and the consistency of his decisions. His physical development will also need to support his progress towards senior football. These are, however, appropriate areas for improvement at his age and do not diminish the appeal of his profile.

With a rating of 3.8/5, the scouting department considers that his current qualities and scope for improvement justify a positive recruitment decision.

Scouting department recommendation: recruit the player.

Remadnia has a sufficiently promising profile to justify investing in his development. His ability to create individual advantages, together with his technical, tactical and physical room for improvement, leads us to regard him as a high-potential player. In an environment able to support him and structure his development, he can progress into an attacking player capable of performing at a higher level.
